31st Meeting of the European
Crystallographic
Association

22/27 August

OVIEDO 2018

SPAIN

Welcome

Dear Sponsors and Exhibitors,

The European Crystallographic Association, in close collaboration with the Spanish Scientific Societies interested in Crystallography, Crystal Growth and related sciences, invite you to Oviedo (Asturias) on the occasion of the 31st European Crystallography Meeting, to participate in the activities of ECM3I, to be held from 22-27 August 2018.

ECM3I will take place in the Palace of Exhibitions and Congresses (PEC) in Oviedo. Inaugurated in May 2011, the PEC is a modern Congress Centre which was built to host international congresses in Oviedo and Asturias. The PEC has a spectacular urban design and offers a modern, functional and versatile infrastructure with all facilities. The building includes a hotel and a shopping center. The PEC has a very large central exhibition area, where commercial exhibition, poster sessions and coffee and lunch breaks will be held. The exhibition area is the principal entrance to the PEC and the main access to the meeting rooms.

The ECM3I Local Organisers, the Programme Committee and the National Advisory Board are setting up an attractive programme covering the latest advances in crystallography and related sciences; an excellent and fascinating programme to attract young and senior scientists as well as companies and general public. One extensive programme for accompanying people will be offered, with special attention to babies and children, with a specific programme of baby-care and children activities.

Asturias, and the city of Oviedo in particular, is an historical, active and organized city of open minded, hospitable and altruist citizens and it may be reached by air, train or car. Asturias shows one unique combination of sea and mountains within a few kilometres, with an extraordinary landscape, clean sand-beaches, mountains with unforgettable valleys and rivers and one remarkable and unbeatable gastronomy. In addition, the singular preromanesque architecture from 8th and 9th centuries and the multiple museums and cultural activities are ready to welcome you.

So, while you're in Asturias, you have the opportunity of combine the highest scientific activity, in a modern, spacious and central venue, with the flavour of one unique natural environment and a rich historical heritage, enjoying the splendid and surprising gastronomy and the beauty of Oviedo, Asturias and Spain.

For all these reasons, ECM3I will be an effervescent and fruitful scientific, social and commercial meeting with many learning opportunities in every current aspect of crystallography. With your support and participation, we will be able to set a dynamic and productive Commercial Exhibition, which will be a central and essential component of the ECM3I.

We look forward to meet you in Oviedo,

Santiago García-Granda , Chair of the ECM3I
Fernando J. Lahoz, Chair of the ECM3I Programme Committee
Alessia Bacchi, President of the European Crystallographic Association
ECM3I Local Organising Committee
